The Huntington family belongs to the manufacturer's geometric, Art Deco-inspired collection, providing a coordinated appearance with Huntington seating and other site furniture. For site coordination, distinguish inground models that require engineered footings from surface-mount versions that attach to an existing suitable concrete base. The price-list model does not establish anchor bolts, embedment depth, vehicle impact rating or concrete footing dimensions. Confirm those requirements against the exact-model manufacturer drawing and the project engineer's site details. Coordination across the Huntington collection can provide a consistent architectural finish without substituting a different SKU.
