Description

Help athletes work on their footwork with these Port a Pit Multi-Height Flex Hurdles, which are suited for agility training in a variety of sports, such as basketball, football and track and field. Whether athletes need to work on plyometric jumps or are running drills, the hurdles offer two different heights to allow athletes to develop a versatile set of skills that will come in handy when competing on the court or playing field. The lightweight, flexible PVC construction is easy to carry, so coaches and gym teachers have no problem preparing the field for practice.

- PVC construction offers lightweight flexibility that absorbs impact and is easy to set up
- Folding legs adjust to 6 in. or 12 in. high for use in a range of differing drills and exercises
- Great for running drills or plyometric jumps to give athletes a chance to boost, develop or hone their quickness and agility on the playing field or court
- Includes 4 hurdles
